Some Assessment Statistics.

Nash Mitchell, supervisor of assessments, has issued his annual report, in which can be found a number of interesting "facts" if it be perused carefully.

One of these facts is that there are only 26 watches in the county. Marshfield has 15 of these watches and Grand Rapids 11, and the rest of the county is watchless. Just think of it. There is not a man in Pittsfield that has a watch, and Nekoosa, a village that boasts of 1500 inhabitants, could not tell the time of day on a bet. And bicycles. There are only three in the county and they are all located at Marshfield. Somebody down here ought to buy a bicycle and exhibit it as a curiosity. What's the use in having all the curiosities located at Marshfield.

In the matter of pianos, we are hooked up in better shape than we are in bicycles and watches. There are 618 pianos in the county, and of this number 540 are located in the cities of Marshfield, Pittsfield and Grand Rapids, while the remainder of the county has 78, ten of which are in the town of Grand Rapids. But when it comes to melodious Nekoosa has out the rest of us lashed to the mast and the cook on the forecastle yelling for help. There are 61 organs and melodious in the county, and of this number Nekoosa is the proud possessor of 39. Nekoosa must be a melodious town. Poor old Pittsfield hasn't got a single doghouse melodeon. Parties looking for a new location will please make a note of this.

When it comes to real estate values Marshfield is assessed at $2,373,823 and Grand Rapids is assessed at $3,373,440, that is, Grand Rapids has a valuation of nearly a million more than Marshfield. Some people are inclined to kick about this, but we really believe there is more difference than this. The lowest valuation of any town is that of Port Edwards, namely $118,248, while the town of Cranmoor comes next with a valuation of $113,332. The little town of Cameron, which isn't bigger than a good sized town, is valued at $125,822.

There are many other things of interest in the supervisor's report, but a lack of space forbids us to mention them all. A careful perusal, however, is bound to convince a person that we have a lot of careful, honest and conscientious assessors throughout the county who are doing all they can to make the assessment a reliable resume of what can be found by a blind man who is quite deaf and not able to get around among the people very much. Let the good work go on.

No Potato Famine Here.

Hancock News:—In spite of the late spring, dry weather, early frosts and hard frozes, O'Connor Bros. will still have enough potatoes for seed another year, some to eat and perhaps a few to sell. They had 425 acres of the tuber in their farm this year, and a crew of over forty hands just finished the harvest this week. If the crop averages 100 bushels to the acre, and that is a fair estimate, there will be 85 car loads in the 1000 crop of potatoes on the O'Connor Bros' farm and though this farm has for 25 years produced more potatoes every year than any other farm in the state, this year it will break its own record. The entire crop is being stored, the largest portion already being in potato houses and cellars in this village. Four diggers, each hauled by four horses, have been in operation during the harvest, and it really was quite a sight to behold these sixteen horses coming across the field, leaving the ground strewn with as fine a lot of potatoes as were ever raised on the place. While potatoes are their main crop, O'Connor Bros. also raise clover, rye and oats on nearly as large a scale. We can't help thinking of what an ocean of gray it will take to spread 85 car loads of potatoes.

Forgot One of the Essentials.

Last week the members of the Eastern Star got up a little farewell party for Mrs. E. S. Renne, who was soon to leave for Hampton, Iowa, to join her husband, who has been there for some time past. This was all right and no more than they should have done for a worthy member of their organization who was soon to leave them. Elaborate preparations were made for the event and everything was coming in fine shape and the guests were arriving, but Mrs. Renne failed to put in an appearance. The chief investigators of the affair got their heads together and discovered that they had neglected to notify Mrs. Renne of the affair at all, and consequently she was not on hand. A delegation was hurried to Mrs. Renne's home to apprise her of the fact that her friends were holding a party for her benefit, and she later appeared at the hall where the evening was spent in a most pleasant manner by all concerned.

Death of Fred Gray.

Fred P. Gray died at the home of his father in this city on Tuesday after a short illness from typhoid fever. Deceased was thirty-five years old and is survived by a wife. They had been residents of this city for only a few months. The remains will be shipped to Almond on Thursday for burial.

Local Highs Lose Game.

The high school football team went to Stevens Point on Saturday and played a game with the Normal team of that city and the locals were beaten by a score of 9 to 0. The locals were compelled to leave some of their best men at home, which, they claim, was the cause of their being beaten. This makes one apiece for the teams, as Grand Rapids beat them the last game.

The following is from the Stevens Point Journal in regard to the game: The Grand Rapids High school football team came up on the early train on the Green Bay & Western this morning, and played the Normal team at the fair grounds this afternoon.

The game resulted in a score of 9 to 0 in favor of Stevens Point. The Grand Rapids team claims their defeat was largely due to four of their regular men being crippled and unable to play today.

The line-up was as follows:

Grand Rapids	Normals
Schroeder	re L. Pierce
Carlson	re Batty
Hill	re Geraldson
Baker	e Kumm
Gutzlaff	lg Odin
Arpin	lt Billings
Gross	lt K. Halverson
M. Natwick	rh R. Birdsell
Boig	lh T. Olson
Smith	q T. Olson
A. Natwick	t Collins

Others who came up with the Grand Rapids team were Messrs. Kell, Hildgondorf, Patten, C. Christensen, R. Arnold, D. Natwick and W. Babcock, and the Misses Maeve, Cooper, Weidman, Mulvey, Martinson and Hayes.

Deer Must Be Thick.

An item from the Wausau Pilot says: We are told that in some portions of Marathon county vegetable crops have been practically ruined the past summer by deer. Some farmers have been afraid to shoot the animals, for fear of being "peached" on by neighbors, while others of a more fearless character have kept their tables well supplied with fresh venison.

It must be pretty tough when the wild game will insist on eating up a man's crops, especially in Wisconsin where the state is spending thousands of dollars each year to protect the animals.

Drew Lots of Land.

At the land drawing held at Abundant on Tuesday of last week lots of land were drawn by parties living in this county. They were as follows:

54 Susan A. Scribner, Grand Rapids. 314 E. F. Humphrey, Sherry. 1475 O. O. Hays, Marshfield. 4391 F. F. Jensen, Nekoosa. 2218 George W. Brown, Pittsfield. 3026 L. Bauckalek, Marshfield. 1920 F. Bauman, Nekoosa. 2083 B. Wagner, Marshfield. The figures at the left of the names are the numbers drawn by each.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

The regular monthly stock fair will occur in this city on Tuesday, November 9, and farmers and others who are interested in the matter should make a note of the date so as to be on hand.

The fair will be held on the east side market square and it is expected that there will be a good turnout. The demand for live stock of all kinds was never better than it is this fall, and farmers can dispose of most anything in this line to a good advantage. Be on hand with whatever you have to sell.

Back from Japan.

Charles Nash arrived in the city on Monday morning, having just returned from Japan where he had been with the University of Wisconsin baseball team for several weeks playing baseball with the Japs. Charles says that if they thought at any time that there would be no effort required to defeat the Japanese at the American national game, they were undeceived on short notice. They played nine games with the Japs and won five of them. Charles pitched five of the games and four of those were won by the Americans. Charles stated that the Japs are particularly good at fielding, and that anything that goes out their way is gathered in without any question. While they are not heavy hitters, they are quite sure at the bat and are good runners. They can hunt the ball whenever they want to, and can generally beat it out to first, which makes them quite formidable adversaries.

The boys were used like princes while they were in Japan, and there was something doing every evening in the amusement line, so that everybody enjoyed the trip even better than they had anticipated. The team was sixteen days on the boat going over and sixteen coming back. Charles spent Monday in this city visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Nash and left on Tuesday morning for Madison to take up his studies at the University again.

About the New Depot.

During a talk with a railroad man recently that gentleman stated that the St. Paul company was going to put in a new depot here and surround it with grounds that would be second to none along the line. He stated that the company had had one set of plans drawn but that they had decided that the structure was not good enough for this city and that the architects had been instructed to prepare another set. He also stated that all the parties who have building on the company's ground in the vicinity of the depot have been instructed to remove same so that the work can be started. He also said that it was the intention of the company to locate the new depot east of the present one and change the tracks so that it would be on the line. The impression seems to be that we are going to have a pretty nice depot.

CAUSES OF TYPHOID.

Autumnal typhoid still has a way of appearing at customary seasons in well-nigh every region of the country. The health authorities in New York find it this year rather more than usual it appears in the dwellings of the well-to-do as freely as in the shacks of the poor. Sanitation does not prevent it, that is, not what we generally call sanitation. It is an intestinal disease, conveyed by drink or food. The old theories of bad air, sewer gas and damp houses have not now much standing. It is feared that some of the points about autumn typhoid. The household does not. The condition of the water supply, as being different in summer and winter, does not. A plausible explanation is that the profuse perspiration with which in summer the body eliminates a large amount of disease breeding matter, is reduced to a minimum at most instantly when the cool days begin. The kidneys and bowels, unaccustomed to the task, are burdened with dangerous materials and unable to perform the task of elimination. It is at least common knowledge that typhoid is most prevalent when the cool weather sets in.

President Katsura of Japan in an address before a club of bankers at Tokyo outlined the policy of the government in a manner which should satisfy the apprehensions of American bankers who see in every move in that direction a threat of war with the United States. The president set forth plans for developing the resources of the empire and avoiding unnecessary expenditures. This peaceful program contained nothing to which objection can be taken anywhere. On the contrary, the plans deserve the warmest approval. Japan has had enough of war for the present, and sees that her highest interests will be served by promoting prosperity at home and strengthening friendly relations abroad.

And what a year it has! Flying a certainty; north pole discovered; Turkey returned; Persia returned; Far East's interest of the ethics of taxation upset; India restored; China subjected to a mass of new impediments; the distance across the Atlantic further shortened; the distance across the continent about to be shortened; wireless, improved; the everlasting power of sentiment dramatically illustrated in the fall of Cincinnatus. If the year had lived today he could hardly repeat his now famous declaration "Romance is dead," says Collier's Weekly. By science, contrary to many fears, wonder and mystery have been increased.

The "daylight saving" bill appears to have gone by the board in the British house of commons, and no great harm done. The matter was solemnly considered by a committee, and for awhile it looked as though parliament would enact the measure. But sober second thought set in, and the committee reported in favor of dropping the bill, "because of grave doubts whether its objects would be attained without subjecting some important interests to serious inconvenience." And that is the end of the agitation so far as parliament is concerned.

Six of Rear-Admiral Sebeon's fleet of fast cruisers succeeded in sinking a record run from San Francisco to Honolulu, but the fact that two cruisers had to abandon the race because of breaks in their machinery which in one instance involved a sacrifice of two lives, is proof that it is dangerous to push warships at top speed even in times of peace. In war times, crippled cruisers are a serious handicap in emergencies.

The death of Capt. Ferber of the French army in an airplane accident at Houlgate-sur-Mer adds another army official to a list of those who have died as a result of aerial service. A purse containing $200 and a handsome diamond ring were lost in a New Jersey penthouse, and found and restored by two prisoners. Such an astonishing amount of honesty ought not to be looked up.

"It becomes a matter of life and death to the British empire to remain supreme at sea," says Lord Charles Beresford in his "Toronto speech," says the Los Angeles Express. Is the British empire supreme at sea? And if she is, can she stoke it out?

Another photograph of Halley's comet has been taken, this time by an astronomer at Yerkes observatory, Lake Geneva, Wis. This confirms the report of the Heidelberg professor, and shows that not only is the comet on its way, but appears to know where it is going.

Moreno will have to get out of its quarrel with Spain the best way it can. The United States and the powers of Europe wisely decline to be drawn into the scrap.

An enterprising pastor in a Pennsylvania town has given the young people of his congregation until New Year to arrange for 30 weddings. And so great is the power of suggestion that it is fully expected the 60 hearts appealed to will beat as 30 before the required time limit expires.

LURTON LEADS FOR JUSTICE

MOST PROBABLE SUCCESSOR TO LATE RUFUS W. PECKHAM.

Is an Old Associate and Intimate Friend of President Taft.

Washington.—The vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of the United States, caused by the death of Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham of New York, is the subject of much of the gossip in Washington just now.

It is popularly speaking, the most important matter which will confront President Taft upon his return to the national capital. Well-informed prophets here name Horace H. Lurton of Nashville, judge of the United States circuit court in the Sixth circuit, as most probably Justice Peckham's successor, with Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers of the department of justice as the probability for the next vacancy in the court. Mr. Bowers is thought by many to stand a very good chance of getting this one.

Judge Lurton sat on the same judicial bench with Mr. Taft, and was the latter's choice for the vacancy that was later filled by the appointment of William H. Moody of Massachusetts. Mr. Taft was secretary of war when he made the recommendation of Mr. Lurton to President Roosevelt, and was, it is said, very much disappointed when his old associate and intimate friend was not appointed. Mr. Lurton is now about 62 years old and would have ten years to serve before retirement.

WOMAN KILLS HER HUSBAND

She Begs to Be Hurried to Jail Fearing Violence from Hands of Man's Relatives.

Penn., Ill.—Frank Stanley was shot and instantly killed by his wife after the two had struggled desperately for the possession of the shotgun with which the woman slew her husband.

Mrs. Stanley was the first to tell of the shooting, when she gave herself up to officers. She begged to be hurried to jail at once, as she feared violence at the hands of her husband's relatives. She pleads self-defense as the cause of the shooting and declares that Stanley had been drinking and handled her roughly in a quarrel over domestic matters.

Under bedclothes, where his cradle had been overturned in the fight for the shotgun, was found the child of the Stanley couple. The baby, less than a year old, was sleeping peacefully with a few feet of its dead father.

In view of her story and the knowledge of friends of the domestic troubles of the Stanleys, it is probable that Mrs. Stanley will be released on bonds.

AGREEMENT IS PROBABLE

Secret Pact Is Seen Between Italy and Russia as Outcome of Czar's Visit to Italy.

Rome, Italy.—Rejoicing prevails throughout the well-disposed part of Italian society because the czar's visit has not been marked by sinister incidents. The tourists exchanged by the sovereigns are generally applauded. The nation is waking up to the fact that the meeting is the outward symbol of important secret understandings and the comment of the press shows that according to well-informed opinion Italy is playing a bold game.

Pow political observers would have credited the king and the government with enough courage openly to fraternize with this Russian ruler, especially since the czar offered Austria almost an insult by making a wide detour to avoid crossing Austrian soil. Italian feeling is tending still more strongly toward rapprochement with Russia and the opinion is widespread that Italy really had no choice except to run the risk of offending Austria and Germany, if those nations wish to take offense.

PICTURES TRAFFIC IN GIRLS

Appeal is Made at W. C. T. U. Convention to Work on State Legislation for More Drastic Laws.

Omaha, Neb.—Dr. O. Edward Janney of Baltimore, Md., chairman of the national vigilance committee for the suppression of the "white slave" traffic, gave a stirring address before the thirty-sixth annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Dr. Janney declared that the traffic in girls has become an evil more widespread than the public imagines, reaching out into every part of this country and even across the ocean for victims.

The federal government, he said, is doing all it can to suppress the traffic, but is hampered by a supreme court decision that this is a matter for the police power of the states to deal with. He urged the members of the W. C. T. U. to influence their state legislatures to pass more drastic laws on this subject.

WOMAN KILLS HER HUSBAND

She Begs to Be Hurried to Jail Fearing Violence from Hands of Man's Relatives.

Penn., Ill.—Frank Stanley was shot and instantly killed by his wife after the two had struggled desperately for the possession of the shotgun with which the woman slew her husband.

Mrs. Stanley was the first to tell of the shooting, when she gave herself up to officers. She begged to be hurried to jail at once, as she feared violence at the hands of her husband's relatives. She pleads self-defense as the cause of the shooting and declares that Stanley had been drinking and handled her roughly in a quarrel over domestic matters.

Under bedclothes, where his cradle had been overturned in the fight for the shotgun, was found the child of the Stanley couple. The baby, less than a year old, was sleeping peacefully with a few feet of its dead father.

In view of her story and the knowledge of friends of the domestic troubles of the Stanleys, it is probable that Mrs. Stanley will be released on bonds.

PACIFIC SLOPE IS SHAKEN

California and Oregon Experience Severe Earth Shocks—Financial Damage Not Great.

San Francisco.—The earthquake shock felt in northern California and southern Oregon Thursday is reported from a number of places to be more severe than any felt in several years previously. The vibrations continued from 10 to 15 seconds, according to observers in different towns.

Windows were shattered, chimneys prostrated, dishes broken and small pieces of furniture moved, but so far as known the financial damage was minimal.

Humboldt county seems to have been the center of the seismic disturbance, but telegraph and telephone communication is interrupted and only meager reports have been received. It does not appear, however, that the shock was of great violence.

Among the cities and towns where the quake was felt are Redding, Red Bluff, Chico, McCloud, Weaver, Dunsmuir and Crescent City, in California, and Grant's Pass and Marshfield, Oregon. It was not felt in San Francisco, nor was it recorded at the local weather bureau.

REVOLT IN GREECE

WHOLE MILITARY CRISIS IN KINGDOM IS BROUGHT TO A HEAD.

DICTATORSHIP THREATENED

Situation is Acute and the Abdication of the King Hinges on Events in the Immediate Future.

Athens.—Actual revolt in the field has broken out in the Greek navy brought the whole military crisis in the kingdom to a head.

The situation is acute and whether or not the next event will be the long expected abdication of King George seems to hinge on the happening of the immediate future. The government is meeting the situation with unexpected firmness.

Thalios, seized the government arsenal at Salamis Friday and is now entrenched there with a force of about 400 naval officers, the most who withdrew from the city on Wednesday, leaving a 24-hour ultimatum for the government's consideration.

The struggle over the arsenal was perfunctory, the guard putting up but a feeble defense. It is rumored everywhere, however, as an overt act against the throne, and it was immediately met at the palace by a proclamation of Thalios, as a traitor and an order for his arrest.

Troops have been thrown around the ministry of marine, and business is practically suspended in the capital.

The question of the hour is "What will the fleet do?" The warships are anchored off Keos, on the farther side of the island of Salamis, and the premier is waiting anxiously to see whether his officers and men will declare for Thalios or against him.

Thalios is the commander of a flotilla of torpedo boats and submarines. It appears that he demands that he be appointed minister of marine, and threatens that if this is not conceded, he will overthrow the government and establish a dictatorship. If Thalios succeeds in whatever he does, it is feared that he will be in a position to carry out his threats.

The Definite Policy.

When the Auditor of all the Russas determined on the construction of the Trans-Siberian Railway he based upon a definite policy of construction and appropriated the money with which to carry it out from inception to completion. The striking features of the incident being in the fact that having determined upon the building of the road a definite policy was established, the money appropriated and the work begun and the work completed in a time that has never been equaled in the history of railway building.

It is only the establishment of a definite policy that is needed in the United States to begin and complete the improvement of a system of waterways not equaled in any country on the globe. The money is at hand or can easily be had. The foreign commerce of the United States is vast. The latest volume of the statistical abstract of the United States—Volume 20, 1908—showing that the total foreign commerce of the United States, imports and exports, amounted to $5,355,272,503 also shows the immeasurably greater value of the trade and commerce between the States. The same authority gives the value of the crops for that year at figures exceeding $7,800,000,000; manufactured products, $11,802,171,087; the wool crop at $18,235,165; lumber at $621,151,388; coal, anthracite and bituminous at $513,078,900, with 23,512,000 tons of pig iron produced with values not given. The articles cited, taking into note of the numberless other products and industries, show the tremendously greater value of the internal over the foreign commerce of the country.

Foreign commerce has a highway at all seasons of the year and the development of the internal trade of the country could readily be gauged if, like its foreign competitor, it had continuous means of communication between shipper and receiver, with the prices to the consumer reduced from present figures which are largely because of the inadequate means of transportation causing delays and added cost to producer or freight payer.

The Upper Mississippi Valley and the great states of the Northwest appreciate the situation. The recent meeting of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association rightly determined to continue its membership in the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, appreciating the fact that the demand for a project involves delay and invokes criticism, with the demand for a policy making certain the improvement of the inland waterways of the country on definite lines and with continuous work. Governor Eberhart, of Minnesota, was happy in his address to the convention in which he pointed out the magnificent results that have come to the trade and commerce of France, Germany and even Russia in improvements which, having been undertaken, are pushed to completion without the delays caused by indefinite plans or inadequate appropriations. It is indeed the "Policy" of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress that will ensure results.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

—Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of Waterbury as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription. After ten years of careful cure, the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure. We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special order. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once. J. R. Daly.

An Opportunity to Secure Both Knowledge and Entertainment.

With big crops, fat bank accounts and with prosperity reigning supreme in every country home, it is the duty of every farmer to look around for opportunities whereby his children can gain impressions that will prove beneficial to them through life and by taking advantage of these, he can, at the same time, secure for himself and his good wife much needed rest and recreation, it would seem that such an opportunity should appeal to him. This opportunity is offered in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition which will be held in Chicago from November 2 to December 10. The champions of the feeding shows of the world, in fact, the finest specimens of cattle, horses, sheep and swine that the world produces will here compete for supremacy and final honors. Do you know what this means? Can you realize what a liberal education such a collection produced by the world's foremost feeders and breeders means to your boys?

The best brains, the greatest masters of the live-stock industry, the foremost live stock specialists will here demonstrate what can be accomplished, and showed farmers will begin to think of these things and endeavor to make arrangements so that they can profit by the teachings of this great International Exposition. The coming show gives promise of being the greatest of this splendid series of events, and the management is planning to offer a program that will far eclipse anything that has ever been offered in the past. The delightful music, dazzling performances and brilliant evening entertainments, combined with educational opportunities unequalled in the world. Where can a greater combination be found at such a minimal outlay of money? Education, entertainment, a pleasure trip and recreation—all in one. Why not plan a pleasant surprise for the folks at home and take advantage of these exceptional opportunities?

Horse Breeding in Wood County

The state law requires all public service stations to be licensed by the Department of Horse Breeding of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. In Wood county there are at the present time thirteen licensed pure bred stallions and twenty-four licensed grade and scrub stallions. This condition does not compare favorably with that in some of the nearby counties and as soon as possible the grade stallions should be replaced by those of pure breeding.

The figures for some of the counties near Wood County that have a larger proportion of pure bred stallions than grades are: Pepin, pure bred 12, grade and scrub 10; Buffalo, pure bred 25, grade 33; Eau Claire, pure bred 22, grade 18; Ladysburg, pure bred 20, grade 15. Grades are less plentiful in the following nearby counties: Janesville, pure bred 19, grade and scrub 23; Monroe, pure bred 11, grade 45; Jackson, pure bred 21, grade 31; Trempealeau, pure bred 25, grade 61.

Posting of Licenses Required.

Stallion licenses must be recorded with the county register of deeds and exact copies printed and posted in conspicuous places wherever the stallion is used for service at home or away from home, for a fee or free of charge. The license shows owners of mares whether the stallion they think of using is "pure bred," "grade," or "mongrel or scrub." Only sound, pure bred stallions can improve our horses. All other stallions should be retired as quickly as their places can be filled by pure bred sires.

"Pure bred" means that the stallion is of pure breeding and is recorded in a stud book recognized by the U. S. Government. "Grade" means that the stallion has either a pure bred sire or a pure bred dam, but is not recorded or eligible to registry in a stud book recognized by the government. "Mongrel or scrub" means a stallion of "mixed" or "unknown" breeding, having neither sire nor dam pure bred. The latter license certificate was provided by the last legislature. It will be given to all scrub stallions and to all stallions hitherto licensed as "grades," if at the time of renewing their licenses, the owner man show that either the sire or dam was pure bred.

The Attorney General has given it as his opinion that fees cannot locally be collected for the services of an unlicensed stallion. All communications relative to these matters should be addressed to A. S. Alexander, College of Agriculture, Dept. of Horse Breeding, Madison, Wis.

Nebraska-Wyoming North Platte Project.

60,000 acres of land have been reclaimed by the U. S. Reclamation Service on the above proposition. This project comprises the building of the famous Pathfinder dam on the North Platte River, about 50 miles southwest of Casper, Wyoming; a diversion dam 150 miles farther down at Whelan, and an interstate canal 150 miles long. The Pathfinder dam is a great piece of work, having a concrete rubble masonry arch 215 feet high and 800 feet long on top and its storage capacity is sufficient to irrigate 100,000 acres of land.

The average elevation of these lands is about 4,100 feet and the soil is a sandy loam, very fertile, free from alkali. Great crops of alfalfa are raised and all cereals, sugar beets and potatoes yield abundantly. This is also an excellent range country, and herders on the irrigable and cultivated lands of Wyoming. Western Nebraska lands under this reclamation service have greatly advanced in value and will continue to advance as the work of improvement goes on. There is no more fertile land anywhere than can be found in the North and South Platte Valleys.

A Penny Well Spent.

That the penny spent for a Christmas stamp sold by the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis association last year thus resulted in an enormous profit on an investment, is proven by the health records of Wisconsin, as indicated by a bulletin just issued by the bureau of vital statistics of the census bureau.

The census of the mortality from consumption has decreased to a surprising extent because the people of Wisconsin are being awakened to the methods for the care and prevention of tuberculosis through organized effort, the report says. The prediction of medical men that consumption can be stamped out in Wisconsin in ten years' time is sure to be fully realized.

"Organized effort" means the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which was formed by leading medical, business and professional men who had no interest other than the saving of lives of those people who could not or did not know how to help themselves. They gave their time and money freely in a worthy cause.

But these comparatively few men could not be expected to be the main support of the movement in a financial way, so the association adopted the Christmas stamp idea of raising funds, penny by penny. In this manner even the poorest person, a class most affected by the white plague, could contribute his or her mite to help the fight.

The money thus raised has been and is being devoted to most worthy work, as proof of which only the health records need be examined. But the work has only begun and more funds are needed. The association has therefore decided to again sell stamps, but of an exclusively Wisconsin design, better for the practical use of those stickers on letters and packages sent during the holiday season.

The campaign opens Nov. 29 and closes at midnight, Dec. 31. Three million stamps must be sold this year. Every person in Wisconsin is asked to assist. Those who gave their mite and loyal aid last year have again come forward, but the ground is not yet thoroughly covered. Stanley A. Douglas, campaign manager, 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, is appealing for a general support, especially in those places which could not be reached last year because of lack of facilities.

No Case on Record.

There is no case on record of a cough or cold resulting in pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken, as it will stop your cough and break up your cold quickly. Refuse any but the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Genuine no opiates and safe and sure. John R. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

And it is further advised, that notice of the fund-raising drive for securing stamps be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county from October 22, 1909.

Given October 22, 1909.

By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.

WISCONSIN

That the penny spent for a Christmas stamp sold by the Wisconsin Anti Tuberculosis association last year thus resulted in an enormous profit on an investment, is proven by the health records of Wisconsin, as indicated by a bulletin just issued by the bureau of vital statistics of the census bureau.

The census of the mortality from consumption has decreased to a surprising extent because the people of Wisconsin are being awakened to the methods for the care and prevention of tuberculosis through organized effort, the report says. The prediction of medical men that consumption can be stamped out in Wisconsin in ten years' time is sure to be fully realized.

"Organized effort" means the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which was formed by leading medical, business and professional men who had no interest other than the saving of lives of those people who could not or did not know how to help themselves. They gave their time and money freely in a worthy cause.

But these comparatively few men could not be expected to be the main support of the movement in a financial way, so the association adopted the Christmas stamp idea of raising funds, penny by penny. In this manner even the poorest person, a class most affected by the white plague, could contribute his or her mite to help the fight.

The money thus raised has been and is being devoted to most worthy work, as proof of which only the health records need be examined. But the work has only begun and more funds are needed. The association has therefore decided to again sell stamps, but of an exclusively Wisconsin design, better for the practical use of those stickers on letters and packages sent during the holiday season.

The campaign opens Nov. 29 and closes at midnight, Dec. 31. Three million stamps must be sold this year. Every person in Wisconsin is asked to assist. Those who gave their mite and loyal aid last year have again come forward, but the ground is not yet thoroughly covered. Stanley A. Douglas, campaign manager, 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, is appealing for a general support, especially in those places which could not be reached last year because of lack of facilities.

No Case on Record.

Refuse any but the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Genuine no opiates and safe and sure. John R. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

And it is further advised, that notice of the fund-raising drive for securing stamps be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county from October 22, 1909.

The Right Overcoat Is All Important

Copyright 1929
The House of Kuppenheimer
Chicago

YOU'RE going to get a lot of good—or harm—out of the overcoat you buy this winter.

The harm comes from making a poor choice: one that bags where it shouldn't—draws where it should be full—one that lessens the measure of your manliness—that becomes shabby, shoddy and apologetic after the first few weeks of wear.

There's much to consider when you buy an overcoat. It should be made from a pure wool fabric—properly shrunk—its texture firm—its color fast.

It should be made by overcoat-specialists—in a shop where nothing else is made. Because there's a certain knack and knowledge that goes into the making of fine overcoats that's distinguished from every other kind of tailoring.

You'll find in the overcoats we're showing from

the result of this specialized skill and individual workmanship. Every coat is a fine, full, gracefully draped garment, cut on swagger lines, one that will present its wearer at his best and keep him looking right.

We want you to see these new styles. Some have distinctive, young-mannish touches; others are conservative models that are always safe—always good style.

The prices are right too—splendid values for the man who wants to combine real worth and lasting value with money saving.

$20, $22.50, $25 buys a coat here fit for a king to wear, in black or fancy chevots and cassimeres with the new large reverses, general and military styles.

Also have a large showing at $15, $18 and $20 in both young mens and mens styles. Come early while selection is easy, don't wait until the assortment is broken.

Ganderbore's Forecast For November.

Whereas, notwithstanding beef is going upward with a bound, pork is higher, and our butter costs us forty cents a pound, fish is doing well, the weevil having sailed it, and the prunes are the finest and most filling we have raised in many months; And whereas, the reign of terror Mothered by the earthquake is remote from us a matter of an ocean trip as yet, And the polar controversy has subsided for a bit, Leaving us to reassemble our disseminated wit:

And whereas, the railroads have delivered Taft the debonair Here and there around the country Right side upmost with care, And the Congress in its wisdom Has arranged a sort of truce By which business and reform have Sort of turned each other loose; And whereas, no one is running Very hard this year for place, And we're neither disconnected Nor obstructed by the race, And the present state of being, Notwithstanding we release Some candidates to keep in practice, Might quite easily be worse; Therefore, Thursday, of November Twenty-fifth, is set apart As a day of thanks and fullness Of the stomach and the heart, When the sacrificial turkey Shall resume its festal sway, And we may rejoice if isn't What it might be, anyway.

November gets its name from noxon, the Latin word for nine. It was anciently the ninth month, but lost brought it around at the season when the Roman explorers were getting in from Britain and other parts and raising such a hullabaloo with their claims and counter claims that it was finally made the eleventh month, when the atmosphere had somewhat cleared and there really was something for which to be thankful. Incredulity in those days was much worse than it is now. When Caesar returned to Rome and claimed to have divided Gaul into three parts he precipitated a dispute in the violence of which both his Bedknives were assassinated and the empire rose and fell four or five times.

The counterstrain for November is supplied by Charles R. Crane, who was for a minute Minister to China. Mum is the word. Mr. Cannon will be coon for the month, with the following cast: Dogs, Mr. Clapp, Mr. Cummings, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Borah; lantern, Mr. Bristow; axes, Mr. Beveridge, Mr. Dooliver; gamsack, Mr. LaPollette.

From the first to the twenty-second the sun will remain in the constellation of Scorpio, but on the twenty-second it will pass into that of Sagittarius the Archer. This will give the wolf the tail again on our 10-yard line, with only three meals to play. If we can hold them there far down, the consumer will eat on the ninth, seventeenth and twenty-seventh, as he has been doing; but if they score on us, he will eat only once this month—on the twenty-fifth.

All of us, no doubt, remember something of the month November, when the pumpkin pie is blooming, and the harking bee is on; when the hills are turning amber, and the hog lies down to slumber in the melancholy knowledge that he is to die at dawn.

It is then the apple butter has a tendency to splutter and to radiate a perfume quite a distance from the pot; it is then the orchards beckon, and it's pretty hard to reckon whether father had his senses when we moved to town or not.

Then the pleasant that grant drummer, wakes the morning, and for summer in the sad heart of the forest is a sweet and plaintive wail; and the geese go over flying down the arching heavens crying loud alarms, as if winter fairly had them by the tail.

You would think to hear them hollow that a blizzard was to follow, and that Boreas had stung them where they couldn't stand the pain; but we know them pretty fairly by this time, and it is rarely that we ever look for anything beyond a little rain.

But it's not so bad to see them. Nor unles to want to be them.—They are free, which makes a married Man look at them more than once; And a thoughtful contemplation Of that wedged aggregation Is not, anyhow, exactly What made any man a dunc.

It arouses his suspicions That too many politicians Have to do with the direction In which humankind is bound; And he wishes it were fated That we might be recreated And begin again at Eden With a new deal all around.

But, howeverwise it may be, this November is the baby for that plenty which is pictured with a long Pandora horn from which sustenance is pouring in abundance on the flooring in the shape of sweet potatoes, pumpkins, cabbages and corn.

All of us know that old picture, And it's what November's like, When the days are soft and hazy And the farmer's on the hike With his corn and his hog-killing, 'Till he's all but out of breath With exertion lest the people In the cities starve to death.

The November flower is the chrysanthemum. To wear a red or pink one signifies love, a white one indicates that you are for Cook, a green one that you are for Peary, and a brown one indicates that you do not know what to think. November's birthstone is the topaz, and it is a good month to be married in, love pirates being too much occupied with getting into winter quarters to be chasing and boarding occasional bliss.

After Thanksgiving, the greatest day in the month will be the ninth, which is the day the Pilgrims landed. There will be a big celebration at Plymouth Rock, with a parade by the trusts and speeches by Messrs. Aldrich, Morgan, Rockefeller, Cannon and other active friends of

On the fourth, fifth and sixth Mr. Bryan will make a few short anniversary dashes around the house for old time's sake.

And then December's cruel blasts Will bite the weather vane, And Santa Claus will skid around Upon his aerodrome.

Ganderbone's Forecast For November.

Whereas, notwithstanding beef is going upward with a bound.

Pork is higher, and our latter costs are forty cents a pound.

Hash is doing well, the weevil having spared it, and the prunes are the finest and most filling.

We have raised in many moons: And whereas, the reign of terror Mothered by the suffragette is remote from us as a matter Of an ocean trip as yet.

And the political controversy has subsided for a bit.

Leaving us to reasonable Our disseminated wit;

And whereas, the railroads have Delivered Taft the debaroir Here and there around the country.

Right side upmost with care. And the Congress in its wisdom Has arranged a sort of trace.

By which business and reform have Sort of turned each other loose:

And whereas, no one is running Very hard this year for place, And we're neither disconnected Nor distracted by the race.

And the present state of being, Notwithstanding we rehearse Some complaints to keep in practice, Might quite easily be worse:

Therefore, Thursday, of November Twenty-fifth, is set apart As a day of thanks and fullness Of the stomach and the heart.

When the sacrificial turkey Shall resume its festive sway, And we may rejoice it isn't What it might be, anyway.

November gets its name from novem, the Latin word for nine. It was anciently the ninth month, but that brought it around at the season when the Roman explorers were setting in from Britain and other parts and raising such a hullabaloo with their claims and counter claims that it was finally made the eleventh month, when the atmosphere had somewhat cleared and there really was something for which to be thankful. Increased in those days was much worse than it is now. When Caesar returned to Rome and claimed to have precipitated a dispute in the violence of which both his Eskimo were assassinated and the empire rose and fell four or five times.

The constellation for November is supplied by Charles R. Crane, who was for a minute Minister to China. Mum is the word. Mr. Cannon will be coon for the month, with the following cast: Dogs, Mr. Clapp, Mr. Cummins, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Borah; lantern, Mr. Bristow; axes, Mr. Beveridge, Mr. Dolliver; game-sack, Mr. LaFollette.

From the first to the twenty-second the sun will remain in the constellation of Scorpio, but on the twenty-second it will pass into that of Sagittarius the Archer. This will give the wolf the ball again on our 10-yard line, with only three meals to play. If we can hold them there for down, the consumer will eat on the ninth, seventeenth and twenty-seventh, as he has been doing; but if they score on us, he will eat only once this month—on the twenty-fifth.

All of us, no doubt, remember something of the month November, when the pumpkin pie is blooming, and the husking bee is on; when the hills are turning amber, and the hog lies down to slumber in the melancholy knowledge that he is to die at dawn.

It is then the apple butter has a tendency to splutter, and to radiate a perfume quite a distance from the pot; it is then the orchards beckon, and it's pretty hard to reckon whether father had his senses when we moved to town or not.

Then the pleasant that great drummer, wakes the morning, and for summer in the ad heart of the forest is a sweet and plaintive wail; and the geese go over flying down the arching heavens crying loud alarms, as if winter fairly had them by the tail.

You would think to hear them hollow that a blizzard were to follow, and that Boreas had stung them where they couldn't stand the pain; but we know them pretty fairly by this time, and it is rarely that we ever look for anything beyond a little rain.

But it's not so bad to see them. Nor anies to want to be them—They are free, which makes a married Man look at them more than once; And a thoughtful contemplation Of that wedged aggregation Is not, anyhow, exactly What made any man a dunce.

It arouses his suspicions That too many politicians Have to do with the direction In which humankind is bound; And he wishes it were fated That we might be recreated And begin again at Eden With a new deal all around.

But, howeverwise it may be, this November is the baby for that plenty which is pictured with a long Pandora horn from which sustenance is pouring in abundance on the flooring in the shape of sweet potatoes, pumpkins, cabbages and corn.

All of us know that old picture. And it's what November's like. When the days are soft and hazy And the farmer's on the hike With his corn and his hog-killing.

Till he's all but out of breath With exertion lest the people In the cities starve to death.

The November flower is the chrysanthemum. To wear a red or pink one signifies love, a white one indicates that you are for Cook, and a brown one indicates that you do not know what to think. November's birthstone is the topaz, and it is a good month to be married in, love pirates being too much occupied with getting into winter quarters to be chasing and boarding occasional bliss.

After Thanksgiving, the greatest day in the month will be the ninth, which is the day the Pilgrims landed. There will be a big celebration at Plymouth Rock, with a parade by the trusts and speeches by Messrs. Aldrich, Morgan, Rockefeller, Cannon and other active friends of liberty.

On the fourth, fifth and sixth Mr. Bryan will make a few short anti-savory dashes around the house for old time's sake.

And then December's cruel blasts Will bite the weather vane, And Santa Claus will skid around Upon his acropolis.

From an Ohio Minister.

Rev. G. W. Hagans, of Clyde, Ohio, says: "I have used Dr. Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup for sore throat, weak lungs, coughs, colds, and any diseases of the kind. It surpasses all other remedies. Many thanks to the doctor for his valuable remedy."

MADE JUST AS GOOD

The Right Overcoat Is All Important

Copyright 1909 The House of Kuppenheimer Chicago

YOU'RE going to get a lot of good—or harm—out of the overcoat you buy this winter.

The harm comes from making a poor choice: one that bags where it shouldn't—draws where it should be full—one that lessens the measure of your manliness—that becomes shabby, shoddy and apologetic after the first few weeks of wear.

There's much to consider when you buy an overcoat. It should be made from a pure wool fabric—properly shrunk—its texture firm—its color fast.

It should be made by overcoat-specialists—in a shop where nothing else is made. Because there's a certain knack and knowledge that goes into the making of fine overcoats that's distinguished from every other kind of tailoring.

You'll find in the overcoats we're showing from

the result of this specialized skill and individual workmanship. Every coat is a fine, full, gracefully draped garment, cut on swaggar lines, one that will present its wearer at his best and keep him looking right.

We want you to see these new styles. Some have distinctive, young-mannish touches; others are conservative models that are always safe—always good style.

The prices are right too—splendid values for the man who wants to combine real worth and lasting value with money saving.
